DEDICATION

First and foremost I would like to thank my family, especially my wife of 29 years for supporting my passion to coach football and change young men's lives. My wife, Cruzita, has been my biggest fan and sacrificed a lot of her goals and desires for both myself and our children. There are no words that can describe my appreciation and love for this woman.

As we have updated this manual I need to tell the thousands of coaches who have bought my materials, flew in for camps, and listened to me speak at clinics...THANK YOU. This has been an incredible journey and I am very humbled to have met so many great men dedicated to changing young men's lives.

The other person whom I would like to dedicate this book to is my youth and high school coach, Jeff Munter, from Lindsay, CA. Coach Munter is the reason I became a teacher and coach and he embodies all the characteristics that every coach should have: character, compassion, integrity, and dedication.

On a professional note, I learned almost everything in this book from coaches smarter than myself and it is an honor to pass it along to you. There are few original ideas in this great game of football and most of the concepts in this book were learned from my mentors, videos, and clinics.

My first exposure to the Wing T was as a player watching Woodlake High School, led by 400-win coach Leo Robinson and then as a coach under Mike Snow in Bakersfield, CA. A few years later, as a first year, struggling head coach I reached out to Randy Blankenship and Mike Crews, both of whom spent many hours tutoring me and answering my calls. The rest of my knowledge was gained from videos and clinics, primarily conducted by Dennis Creehan, Tubby Raymond, and Bruce Cobleigh.

It was at Porterville that I surrounded myself with coaches who were dedicated to not only learning the offense, but reaching a point to ask questions. Dennis Moody, Ruben Rodriguez, Marshall Chairez, and Larry Duran played huge roles in developing much of the information in this book. It was this dedicated staff and the players from the 2011 Porterville Panther football team that helped evolve this dynamic offense. This group gave up several Saturdays in the spring filming so that we could dissect all the steps and changes necessary.

If there is any way that I can help you both personally and professionally, my cell phone is 559-723-1211 and my email is rick@allaccesscoaching.com
