

1) This is my #Qanon thread for July 2nd, 2018.

Q posts can be found here: qanon.pub

My theme: Q's School of Law

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhJLrm8UYAAI4o.jpg>

2) This thread is intended to spur discussion & research into the legal matters that #Qanon has brought up.

After all, a major part of Q's mission is to drop hints (crumbs) to encourage average people like you and me to do our own research and uncover the truth.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhJkAxFUEAATujC.jpg>

3) Disclaimer: I am not an attorney and I have no formal legal training.

I have studied the legal system as a hobby so I do have some familiarity with the subject. I'll share what

I've learned but there are many things Q has mentioned that I haven't begun looking into.

#Qanon

4) As always, I suggest digging into these clues. Do your own research and see what you uncover. Even better if you know someone with a legal background.

#Qanon

5) This thread will examine many of #Qanon's early posts. If you haven't had a chance to check them out, this will be a good way to become familiar with some of them.

6) At various times in #Qanon's mission, he hinted at the possibility that there are sealed indictments awaiting the criminal cabal that hijacked our government.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhJmxuuVQAE4IX9.jpg>

7) But the mention of sealed indictments brings with it many thorny questions.

What is an indictment, exactly?

What is a "sealed indictment?"

How would anyone know if there were sealed indictments pending for an individual (or a group of people)?

#Qanon

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhJoDISV4A16mqI.jpg>

8) I won't ask you to take it on blind faith that there are sealed indictments piling up, waiting to put the cabal in jail.
I don't think #Qanon would want that either.

Let's look at what evidence there is in favor of (and against) this idea and see where the facts lead.

9) On March 10, #Qanon posted this. It predated by several weeks the announcement by Jeff Sessions that US Attorney John Huber had been assigned to do the work of swamp draining requested By Chuck Grassley, Trey Gowdy and Bob Goodlatte.

10) All the articles I found about this announcement were published no earlier than March 29. How #Qanon got the information on March 10th is a bit of a mystery.

Sessions Opts Against Second Special Counsel To Investigate FBI, DOJ
 Sessions told three powerful Republican committee chairmen he has appointed a Justice Department attorney based in Utah to conduct an internal review.

- 11) #Qanon asked us to go back to his previous posts and look for his mention of something "sealed."
- 12) That takes us to this post by #Qanon from November 2017. I've provided my answers to some of the questions. Read this and think about how it relates to current events.

(I'm just getting started. I'll continue this thread tomorrow.)

How do you capture a very dangerous animal? (Don't let it know you're coming after it)
 Do you attack it from the front?
 Do you walk through the front door?
 Do you signal ahead of time you will be attacking?
 How do you distinguish between good and bad?
 Who do you trust to keep secrets? (Select patriots, members of military)
 How do you prevent leaks? (Conduct your affairs away from known sources of leaks)
 Who do you trust to complete the mission? (Someone with a reliable track record)
 How do you prevent warnings being sent? (Secure comms, only those with need to know)
 Why is Adm R. so important? (Head of NSA - has access to all comms, public and private)
 Why was the source code to former NSA collection p's publicly released?
 How do you blind the Clowns In America? Cripple their intelligence gathering ability
 What was Snowden's primary mission? NSA compromised to give CIA pre-eminence
 What was Snowden's real primary mission?
 Was Snowden truly acting on his own? Snowden was originally CIA. He contracted with NSA to get intel and leak it to discredit NSA. (Clown op)
 Nothing is as it appears.
 What show is being put on by AG Sessions since his confirmation?
 What show is being put on by POTUS since AG Sessions' confirmation?
 Why was AG Sessions' confirmation challenged heavily? Swamp knew he was a threat
 Why was RR's confirmation smooth and easy? Rosenstein was perceived by the swamp to be a friend. Sessions recused to make the swamp believe they were safe.
 Why did Sessions recuse himself?

Why is this relevant?
 What group has vocally supported RM repeatedly?
 How do you capture a very dangerous animal? Don't let it know you're coming after it
 Who is best to conduct the attack? Someone who is not perceived to be a threat.
 What is the one force necessary to retain control? Element of surprise
 Why does the US Military play such a vital role in this global game of RISK? CIA, DOJ, FBI leadership corrupted. military must remove & prosecute corrupt leadership
 What is money without power? Not much to anyone who wants to get things done
 Why did POTUS depart Manila 30 min ahead of schedule? Alerted to crisis
 Why is AF1 landing in Hawaii? Stop by NSA for face to face briefing on crisis, receive intel
 Does AF1 have in-air refueling ability? Yes
 Why is AF1 landing in Hawaii? Face to face was necessary due to national security risk
 Does AF1 have in-air refueling ability?
 Nothing is as it appears. Judge by MSM reports & you have no idea what's happening
 What was the DC vote breakdown between Trump & Clinton? Clinton won 90% of DC vote
 What is the nickname for DC? The Swamp
 The swamp could not provide jurors who would fairly evaluate testimony against politicians
Why would sealed indictments be outside of DC jurisdiction?
 What purpose would this serve?
 Why are judicial appointments being rapidly completed?
 Who can you trust? Trump set the all time record for judicial appointments. Current judges are compromised. Need new ones to hear cases being prepared against traitors in the swamp
 Have faith, Patriots.

- 13) In November, #Qanon said it would be difficult to impanel objective Grand Juries in Washinton DC, so a prosecutor was working outside of DC to obtain sealed indictments against bad actors.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhMMEvUEAA1KNU.jpg>

- 14) That is precisely what Sessions' told us in March.

How did #QAnon know months ahead of time that Sessions had appointed a US attorney outside of DC to prosecute corruption?

Lucky guess?

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhMLk8YVMAImlzs.jpg>

15) This is one of the biggest proofs that #QAnon must have access to information at the highest levels inside of the Trump administration.

No one could simply guess that this was happening.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhMMwkaUEAExcg.jpg>

16) #QAnon pointed out in November that the President was appointing Federal judges at a break-neck pace. Few people have made the connection that all those new judges could be a necessary step before prosecution begins against the swamp.

Republicans confirming Trump's court nominees at record pace

Republicans have increasingly pointed to confirming Trump's nominees as a key reason they should keep control of the Senate in the midterm elections.

Some are civil cases.
Some are criminal.
Many of them are not indictments.

22) Anyone doing research on the pacer.gov website should be aware that in order to get a real idea of how many criminal sealed indictments there are, a specific type of sealed case needs to be identified.

#Qanon

23) Page 21 of the document lists the data for sealed criminal cases. For the year 2006, researchers found 66,458 total criminal cases.

1077 of these cases were sealed for one reason or another.

284 sealed cases were criminal indictments.

#Qanon

Sealed Cases in Federal Courts

Sealed Criminal Cases

We found 1,077 sealed criminal cases among 66,458 criminal cases filed in 2006 (1.6%). Among the sealed cases are 241 grand jury matters and warrant-type applications, which most districts would have given magistrate judge or miscellaneous case numbers instead of criminal case numbers. There were 13 districts with no sealed 2006 criminal cases; 10 of these districts are small, with fewer than six authorized judgeships; four of the districts without sealed civil cases also had no sealed criminal cases. The median percentage of sealed cases among 2006 criminal cases was 0.96% for the 94 district courts.⁶

The three principal reasons for sealing a criminal case, accounting for 65% of the sealed criminal cases in this research, are (1) sealing the indictment so as to not tip off the defendant until the defendant's apprehension, (2) protecting the identity of a juvenile defendant, and (3) keeping secret details of a cooperating defendant's prosecution. Another 21% of the sealed criminal cases we observed are warrant-type cases that many districts would have given magistrate judge or miscellaneous case numbers instead of criminal case numbers. We classified the cases according to the predominant reason for their sealing:

- 284 sealed indictments
- 180 juvenile prosecutions
- 70 misdemeanor drug cases, which often are expunged
- 241 criminal cases sealed because of cooperation or ongoing investigations
- 17 sealed transfers of jurisdiction
- 15 grand jury matters
- 226 warrant-type cases
- 4 criminal cases sealed to protect the victims
- 2 criminal cases sealed to protect trade secrets
- 1 criminal case sealed to protect a high-profile defendant
- 1 sealed criminal contempt case related to attorney discipline
- 1 other sealed criminal case
- 12 criminal cases in which the sealing function was used for cases that are not really sealed
- 23 cases apparently sealed in error

In addition, there are 20 criminal cases that are regarded as sealed in their courts, but were not

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhMWgQsVAAE0yP.jpg>

24) I'm not trying to be a wet blanket. Just pointing out the fact that not all sealed cases are criminal indictments. If we're going to present this information to the public and be taken seriously, we need to have our facts straight.

Increased Sealed Cases – Something Big Is Going On

Turley: Sessions' Using Utah Federal Prosecutor Much Better for Trump than 2nd Special Co...
WASHINGTON, DC – Professor Jonathan Turley, a top national legal expert on government prosecutions, commented on Thursday about Attorney General Jeff Sessions' decision to bring in U.S. Attorney John...

<https://www.breitbart.com/big-government/2018/03/31/turley-sessions-using-utah-federal-prosecutor-much-better-trump-2nd-special-counsel/>

Sessions informed Congress in his letter that all the matters recommended for investigation by Goodlatte, Gowdy, and Grassley are “fully within the scope of [Huber’s] existing mandate.” He also informed the chairmen that Inspector General Michael Horowitz, who is working with Huber, has a staff of 470 investigators, giving Huber access to enormous investigative firepower that far exceeds the staff of any special counsel.

That point is critical because as Sessions’ March 29 letter explains, the inspector general’s jurisdiction to conduct civil and criminal investigations includes “actions taken by former employees after they have left government service.” Then Huber can act on any of those matters.

As a U.S. attorney, Huber has full authority to empanel a grand jury and to file criminal charges. A grand jury can be empaneled anywhere, which means that it could be a group of citizens from deep-red Utah – in the heart of Trump country – instead of the D.C. Swamp that decides whether to hand down indictments for felony prosecution.

“The Inspector General’s jurisdiction extends not only to allegations of legal violations, but also to allegations that Department employees violated established practices as well,” Sessions added in his letter, which means that the IG’s report can hold people accountable even for actions that do not violate a specific statute.

“I think [Sessions] did the right thing here,” said Turley. “I think the president should listen to General Sessions on this one.”

National Security Agency

The NSA are /ourguys/ white-hats fighting for America and supporting POTUS in his efforts to Make America Great Again. At war with the Deep State for many years now, the NSA has lost many Patriots because of Snowden's act of treason that exposed white-hat agents who were operating around the world.

39) Many of #Qanon's early posts mention Military Intelligence (MI).
Because the C IA, FBI & DOJ have been corrupted, the President has been relying on Military Intelligence (MI) as a workaround until those agencies can be restructured and reformed.

Military Intelligence Corps (United States Army)

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Military Intelligence Corps (sometimes referred to as MI) is the intelligence branch of the United States Army. The primary mission of military intelligence in the United States Army is to provide timely, relevant, accurate, and synchronized intelligence and electronic warfare support to tactical, operational and strategic-level commanders. The Army's intelligence components produce intelligence both for Army use and for sharing across the national intelligence community.^[1]

What's a major drawback with the FBI & DOJ?
They leak to the media.

What if the wizards and warlocks tipped off a local reporter as to the supposed unscheduled stop?
What if the NSA under the personal direction from Adm R had this meeting miscat and logged under a false identity to prevent bad actors from locating while also verifying to said players all was clear _ no logs.
What really happened when the wizards and warlocks revealed what they had?
Was Comey forced into the spotlight shortly thereafter not by choice?
Right before the election no doubt which would cast suspicion?
These are crumbs and you cannot imagine the full and complete picture.
If Trump failed, if we failed, and HRC assumed control, we as Patriots were prepared to do the unthinkable (this was leaked internally and kept the delegate recount scam and BO from declaring fraud).

The Russian reset was an attempt by the Obama administration to improve relations between the United States and Russia in 2009.

POTUS is 100% insulated - any discussion suggesting he's even a target is false.

POTUS will not be addressing nation on any of these issues as people begin to be indicted and must remain neutral for pure optical reasons. To suggest this is the plan is false and should be common sense.

Focus on Military Intelligence/ State Secrets and why might that be used vs any three letter agency

What SC decision opened the door for a sitting President to activate - what must be showed?

Why is POTUS surrounded by generals ^^

Again, there are a lot more good people than bad so have faith. This was a hostile takeover from an evil corrupt network of players (not just Democrats).

49) The Supreme court decision on State Secrets was the United States vs Reynolds which established that the government could refuse to provide evidence in court if it were deemed to be a threat to national security.

#Qanon

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/State_secrets_privilege

State secrets privilege

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The state secrets privilege is an evidentiary rule created by United States legal precedent. Application of the privilege results in exclusion of evidence from a legal case based solely on affidavits submitted by the government stating that court proceedings might disclose sensitive information which might endanger national security.^{[1][2][3][4][5][6]} United States v. Reynolds,^[7] which involved military secrets, was the first case that saw formal recognition of the privilege.

Following a claim of "state secrets privilege", the court rarely conducts an in camera examination of the evidence to evaluate whether there is sufficient cause to support the use of this doctrine. This results in court rulings in which even the judge has not verified the veracity of the assertion.^[1] The privileged material is completely removed from the litigation, and the court must determine how the unavailability of the privileged information affects the case.^{[3][5]} affects the case.^{[3][5]}

Function [edit]

The purpose of the state secrets privilege is to prevent courts from revealing state secrets in the course of civil litigation (in criminal cases, the Classified Information Procedures Act serves the same purpose). The government may intervene in any civil suit, including when it is not a party to the litigation, to ask the court to exclude state secrets evidence. While the courts may examine such evidence closely, in practice they generally defer to the Executive Branch. Once the court has agreed that evidence is subject to the state secrets privilege, it is excluded from the litigation. Often, as a practical matter, the plaintiff cannot continue the suit without the privileged information, and drops the case. Recently, courts have been more inclined to dismiss cases outright, if the subject matter of the case is a state secret.^[8]

50) The question of what Supreme Court case allows the President to use the Military for prosecution instead of the DOJ is a more difficult one. I've researched this issue for days and I haven't found a clearcut answer.

51) At issue is the question of the extent to which the President can use the military to enforce laws.

The Insurrection Act empowers the President to use the military to enforce the law under certain conditions.

#Qanon

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Insurrection_Act

Insurrection Act

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Insurrection Act of 1807 is a United States federal law (10 U.S.C. §§ 251–255) that governs the ability of the President of the United States to deploy military troops within the United States to put down lawlessness, insurrection, and rebellion. The general purpose is to limit presidential power, relying on state and local governments for initial response in the event of insurrection. Coupled with the Posse Comitatus Act, presidential powers for domestic law enforcement are limited and delayed.

This Act was used to declare the commencement of the American Civil War.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhNd5nIVAAAUk76.jpg>

52) The posse comitatus act is thought to restrict the use of the military but in fact, it simply acknowledges that no one EXCEPT Congress and the President are authorized to use the military to enforce the law.

#Qanon

Link:

<http://www.dtic.mil/dtic/tr/fulltext/u2/a494995.pdf>

This is almost the complete law. If it were the complete law, the pontificators would be correct in asserting that the law prohibits the use of the Army and Air Force from enforcing the law in the United States. However, Congress included an important qualification in the sentence that is often overlooked by those who prefer an absolute prohibition. The important exception is the following clause that modifies the subject: Except in cases and under circumstances expressly authorized by the Constitution or Act of Congress.

It is clear that Congress has someone in mind that could lawfully authorize the Army and Air Force to execute the laws. Who is this person or persons to whom Congress grants that authority?

Congress has on several occasions enacted laws that authorize one person-and one person only-to authorize the Army and Air Force to execute the laws. That person is the President of the United States. To make it clear what the sentence really says, I will substitute this meaning of the exception clause in the parsed version of the Posse Comitatus Act.

Whoever, except the Congress or the President of the United States, willfully uses any part of the Army or the Air Force as a posse comitatus of otherwise to execute the laws shall be fined under this title or imprisoned or both.

Restated even more clearly, the intent of this law reads as follows: Only the Congress or the President of the United States may authorize the use of the Army and Air Force to execute the laws.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhNe59QU0AAAsI-6.jpg>

53) Except in rare cases, non-military personnel cannot be tried in a military court. The constitution guarantees civilians the right to a trial in a non-military court. Detention & trial by the military of a civilian would in most cases violate the right of habeas corpus.

#Qanon

Habeas Corpus

OVERVIEW:

Latin for "that you have the body." In the US system, federal courts can use the writ of habeas corpus to determine if a state's detention of a prisoner is valid. A writ of habeas corpus is used to bring a prisoner or other detainee (e.g. institutionalized mental patient) before the court to determine if the person's imprisonment or detention is lawful. A habeas petition proceeds as a civil action against the State agent (usually a warden) who holds the defendant in custody. It can also be used to examine any extradition processes used, the amount of bail, and the jurisdiction of the court. See, e.g. Knowles v. Mirzayance 556 U.S.____(2009), Felker v. Turpin 518 US 1051 (1996) and McCleskey v. Zant 499 US 467 (1991).

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhNgZoNU8AAM-gC.jpg>

54) But there are exceptions. If a civilian is believed to have committed an act of war against the US, they could be tried as an enemy combatant. Treason and espionage are also charges that could be suitable for a military trial.

#Qanon

55) After losing a case in the Supreme Court, the Bush administration & Congress passed the Military Commissions Act, aimed at strengthening the military's ability to detain enemy combatants.

#Qanon

Military Commissions Act of 2006

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other uses, see Military Commissions Act (disambiguation).

The United States Military Commissions Act of 2006,^[1] also known as HR-6166, was an Act of Congress^[2] signed by President George W. Bush on October 17, 2006. The Act's stated purpose was "to authorize trial by military commission for violations of the law of war, and for other purposes".^[3]

It was drafted following the Supreme Court's decision on Hamdan v. Rumsfeld (2006),^[4] which ruled that the Combatant Status Review Tribunals (CSRT), as established by the United States Department of Defense, were procedurally flawed and unconstitutional, and did not provide protections under the Geneva Conventions. It prohibited detainees who had been classified as enemy combatants or were awaiting hearings on their status from using habeas corpus to petition federal courts in challenges to their detention. All pending habeas corpus cases at the federal district court were stayed.

In Boumediene v. Bush (2008), the US Supreme Court held that section 7 of the MCA was unconstitutional because of its restrictions of detainee rights. It determined that detainees had the right to petition federal courts for habeas corpus challenges.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhNkAdkUYAAgZcR.jpg>

56) The Military Commissions Act has been fraught with problems. It's been repeatedly challenged in court and parts of it have been ruled unconstitutional.

#Qanon

57) Obama may have accomplished what Bush wasn't able to. Hidden inside the National Defense Authorization Act, is a provision allowing the President to detain & prosecute those who provide aid to terrorists—even if they're a US citizen.

Traitors, Spies and Military Tribunals: The Assault on Civil Liberties During World War I

Eric Chester

Winter 2013

Vol. XIV-2

Whole #: 54

Printer-friendly version

INTRODUCTION: ON DECEMBER 31, 2011 PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA SIGNED INTO LAW THE NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT (NDAA) OF 2011. TUCKED INTO THE BILL PROVIDING THE MILITARY WITH HUNDREDS OF BILLIONS OF DOLLARS WERE PROVISIONS AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO INDEFINITELY DETAIN IN MILITARY JAILS THOSE CHARGED WITH PROVIDING "SUBSTANTIAL SUPPORT" TO AL-QAIDA OR THE TALIBAN, AND TO PROSECUTE THESE INDIVIDUALS IN MILITARY TRIBUNALS. THESE PROVISIONS COULD EASILY BE USED AGAINST THOSE WHO RAISED FUNDS FOR AN ORGANIZATION CONTROLLED BY ISLAMIC FUNDAMENTALISTS WITH TIES TO AL-QAIDA. IN ADDITION, THE WORDING IS SO IMPRECISE THAT IT COULD LEAD TO THE DETENTION OF ANYONE WHO HELPED TO ORGANIZE A DEMONSTRATION, OR HOSTED A WEBSITE, THAT PROMOTED THE VIEWS OF ISLAMIC FUNDAMENTALISM AS PROPOUNDED BY AL-QAIDA.

In signing NDAA (2011), Obama issued a finding stating that he would not detain any U.S. citizen in a military prison as authorized by the bill. In fact, his finding is not legally binding, and the statute remains on the books as enacted by Congress. Furthermore, any future president would not be bound morally or legally to the finding, and would be free to utilize its provisions.

57) This article approaches the subject from a perspective of concern about executive abuse and overreach but it nicely chronicles the government's shifting view toward treason, sedition, sabotage, espionage, and terrorism.

#Qanon

In 1919, after the war had come to an end, Warren wrote a law review article defending the proposition that Congress could authorize military tribunals to try civilians for acts of sabotage, thereby greatly restricting the range of actions included in his argument. This time he also conceded that espionage had a clearly defined scope, which did not encompass acts of sabotage, but he nevertheless insisted that the Constitution had given Congress the authority to permit military tribunals to punish "the acts of the destructive enemy agent." After all, saboteurs might prove to be "more dangerous than spies."

Warren's argument in this article comes very close to that advanced by those supporting the relevant provisions in the National Defense Authorization Act. The damage caused on September 11, 2001 was sabotage writ large. The NDAA (2011) does not include a rationale for its sweeping provisions, but implicitly the argument holds that under the provision of the Constitution that gives Congress the responsibility to "provide for the common defense" of the United States, Congress can authorize the military to indefinitely detain anyone, including a U.S. citizen, who provides "substantial support" to al-Qaeda and the Taliban. Such individuals, goes the argument, represent a significant threat to the national security of the United States during a time of hostilities, and thus are not protected by the Bill of Rights.

The argument that the Milligan decision did not limit Congressional authority to extend the jurisdiction of military tribunals to civilians is tenuous at best. The decision to overturn the conviction of Milligan could have been made on narrow technical grounds, but Judge David Davis used the opportunity to write an opinion intended to establish broad guidelines on the entire issue. His opinion held that "it is the birthright of every American citizen when charged with crime to be tried and punished according to law." The controversy concerning the jurisdiction of military tribunals is grounded in "the struggle to preserve liberty and to relieve those in civil life from military trials." Furthermore, the Constitution "is a law for rulers and people equally in war and peace." The argument that the fundamental rights embodied in the Bill of Rights "can be suspended during any of the great exigencies of government" is "pernicious," and "leads directly to anarchy or despotism." Although the Milligan case arose out of a trial held under martial law, Davis was making arguments that were designed to restrict the power of military trials at any time and whatever the legal rationale.

The Chamberlain Court-Martial Bill would have greatly increased the power of the military, and would have marginalized the Department of Justice in the effort to quash dissent during World War I. Neither Attorney General Gregory nor President Wilson was prepared to move in this direction, and the issue soon led to a tense confrontation between the President and members of Congress.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DhNkteVVAAANXbE.jpg>

58) Congress has authorized the military detention & prosecution of US citizens as spies during times of war.

If Obama's staff are found to have aided Al-Qaeda, the Taliban, ISIS, etc, could they be tried in a military tribunal?

#Qanon

Link to article: <http://newpol.org/content/traitors-spies-and-military-tribunals-assault-civil-liberties-during-world-war-i>

The first article of the Constitution had authorized Congress to "declare war," "provide for the common defence," and "make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces." From these general guidelines Warren argued that Congress had the power to override the basic rights guaranteed to citizens of the United States in the Bill of Rights when it determined that the risk to the armed forces of "the inherently dangerous effect" of certain acts "upon the military situation" required such legislation. Thus, he concluded, the Milligan decision had not limited the "power of Congress to legislate under Article 1, Section 8 of the Constitution."

Congress had already enacted legislation holding that civilians could be tried as spies in military tribunals in times of war. In 1806, Congress had held that "all persons not citizens of the United States" who were found "lurking as spies" in the vicinity of military installations could be tried by military tribunal and executed if convicted. In 1862, in the midst of the Civil War, Congress had amended this act to include "all persons" found "lurking" near fortifications.[26] This marked a significant extension of the scope of military justice, but it does not seem that anyone was actually prosecuted under the provisions of the amended act. Instead, Union generals relied on courts-martial created on the basis of martial law.

Warren argued that Congress had already asserted its right to determine who could be tried by a military tribunal for spying, and thus it could determine what acts were covered by the charge of espionage. The Constitution gave Congress "the power today to subject to court-martial civilians who commit acts just as injurious to the members of our army and navy" as those who spied on military fortifications.

In 1919, after the war had come to an end, Warren wrote a law review article defending the proposition that Congress could authorize military tribunals to try civilians for acts of sabotage, thereby greatly restricting the range of actions included in his argument. This time he also conceded that espionage had a clearly defined scope, which did not encompass acts of sabotage, but he nevertheless insisted that the Constitution had given Congress the authority to permit military tribunals to punish "the acts of the destructive enemy agent." After all, saboteurs might prove to be "more dangerous than spies."

If true, it blows a hole in the narrative Lynch and Clinton have maintained for two years. Lynch claimed the "social" meeting was spontaneous and the two discussed grandchildren.

The meeting was extremely controversial at the time because it came just days before then-FBI Director James Comey announced the FBI would not recommend criminal charges against Clinton for using a private email server while secretary of state.

What does Horowitz's report say?

The report states that the DOJ department of public affairs supervisor traveling with Lynch told internal DOJ investigators that Clinton's Secret Service detail contacted Lynch's security detail ahead of time to arrange the meeting.

Clinton's plane was parked next to Lynch's, the report revealed, or about just 20 to 30 yards away.

Clinton told investigators he only learned the plane next to his was Lynch's after being briefed by his staff. He claimed he then debated whether or not he should "say hello" and "shake hands with the Attorney General."

There will be no civil war.

Coordinated MSM hysteria designed to instill fear - change narrative.

NK is NOT advancing their weapons program.
