

Off Ball- Flare Screen and Slip

General

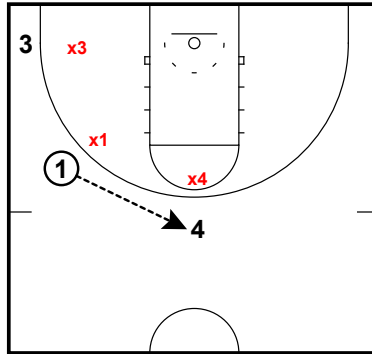

Attacking the Switch- Flare Screen Slip
Concepts

One way of attacking the switch is to run off-ball flare screen, seal, and dive action.

This action can come from a 5 out set that has become popular in the NBA.

As 3 goes to set the flare screen for 1, he keeps an eye on his own man (x3). As soon as x3 starts to cheat out to switch, then 3 slips hard to the rim. His slip should occur before making any contact with x1 and before 1 reaches the level of his "screen."
