5 Out Alignment

5 Out Spacing

5 out offense is the hottest trend in college basketball
5 out spacing allows more drives and cuts with the lane being open
Some of the negatives are getting to the foul line and poor rebounding
Since defenses are being built to take away the 3 point shot, 5 out spacing has become a necessity

Continuity Offense

Ball Screen Continuity
5 out alignment is very difficult to defend if your bigs have the ability to shoot from the perimeter
The 3 guards only go inside the 3 point line to cut to the other side of the court
The 2 bigs (4 & 5) roll to the basket after setting side ball screens
They move back up to the slot if they don't receive a pass on the roll

Ball Screen Continuity

Continuity starts out with an empty side ball screen
1 fills opposite after making pass to wing (2)
Empty side ball screen allows a couple of options on the roll
Wing can reject ball screen for baseline drive
Wing can make pocket pass to roll man
The other option is the pick and pop with the big

Ball Screen Continuity
2 reverses the ball to 5 if 4 is not open on the roll

Ball Screen Continuity
3 back cuts to opposite corner
5 passes to 1 lifting to the wing
